PADRE PAUL'S PONDERINGS

Mothers, Fathers Primary Vocation: Helping us Hear the Voice of the Shepherd

Over the years a question I've been asked a time or two is "when did you decide you wanted to become a priest?" For some there may be a specific moment in time where they remember the moment they found their vocation, but for others, like me, it was gradual, but a big reason was because I was able to hear the call of God.

In the Gospel for this weekend on the Fourth Sunday of Easter, Jesus says "My sheep hear my voice; I know them, and they follow me." Hearing the voice of the Shepherd though takes an attentive ear. Much like a master organist can play a piece and find a flaw that most people would not even notice because they have a trained ear, the same is true for our faith. How does one hear the voice of God, who guides us with the love of a shepherd, as the primary voice we must listen to if we want to become saints?

A big part of it has to do with our parents.

On the day of our baptism, a lighted candle is given to our parents lit from the Easter Candle. The priest or deacon then instructs the parents that this candle, symbolizing the light of Christ, is entrusted to them, and it's up to them to teach their children how to keep that spiritual flame in their souls burning brightly.

This week as we celebrate Mother's Day, and I reflected on the Gospel, I couldn't help but think of how my parents have both helped me in my life to hear the voice of the Shepherd.

For one, there is that commandment to love God with your whole heart, mind and soul and to love your neighbor as yourself. In both of their lives, I've seen this lived out.

Mom and dad centered the family life around God. We'd make sure to go to Mass each week, and if we were super busy on a weekend, we'd drive to at the time the only "last chance" Mass in town, Saint Lawrence near the U of M for a Sunday evening Mass. We'd pray too before meals and before I went to bed. They also helped me to learn the content of the faith, teaching me the faith and morals of our Christian faith.

There was also the testament of their lives. Both of my parents are sacrificial people. They are involved in their parish. They have done so much for their own parents. They worked hard to make our house a home. And they were always present for both me and my sister when we were growing up. To this day, they continue to amaze me in how they give, give and give never saying "what's in it for me" but living much like John the Baptist, pointing the way to the Shepherd.

A man I've quoted many times in this space and in homilies is Bishop Robert Barron, who heads up "Word On Fire," a Catholic apologetics site and is auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles. He says time and time again how God cannot be one of many things, but must be at the center of our lives. That's so important, but so too is it important for us to teach others what that means.

As we age, many of us see how our moms and dads truly help us to hear the voice of the shepherd. We look back and see how hard they worked, and why they had to say "no" to certain things that we didn't understand at the time, and of why prayer and Mass mattered so much whether it was Easter or a weekend in July. Our moms and dad do so much to form us.

All of us are prone to spiritual "hearing loss" though. We get busy and lose sight of what ultimately matters and get caught up with school, work, sports etc. Sometimes even us priests, and parents, though well-intended, can get caught up in this too.

Our Gospel this week challenges us to hear the voice of the Shepherd who will ultimately lead us to heaven. If we may struggle with that sometime, we can hit the "reset" button and remember what ultimately matters. But we can also look at the example of our moms and grandmothers and so many people and see in all that they have done for us in so many ways they were helping us to hear God's voice.

To all our moms, thank you for being such amazing, unsung heroes who pass on the faith and help us to hear the voice of God through how your lead your lives. May God bless you always - and hopefully you know how much you are loved not just one day a year, but every day of the year.

God bless, ~Fr. Paul

CATHOLIC QUOTES

Words to Inspire the Faithful

"We are, all of us, molded and remolded by those who have loved us." - Francois Mauriac

VOCATION VIEW

On this World Day of Prayer for Vocations, pray for yourself. Pray to know if God is calling YOU to be a Priest, Deacon, Sister or Brother. PRAY!

May is the month dedicated to Mary, Our Blessed Mother. May 13th is the Feast of Our Lady of Fatima. To honor Mary in a special way this month we have placed a statue of her as Our Lady of Fatima in the Gathering Space. She will be "in residence" the whole month of May. There are pamphlets near the statue that tell of her apparitions at Fatima as well as her messages to the world. There are prayer cards for you to take for your devotions at home. Visit Mary when you're in the Gathering Space and say a Hail Mary for your special intentions.

VIRTUS TRAINING

The next Virtus Training will be Wednesday, May 22 from 6-9pm
here at St. Joe's. You must go to virtus.org to register for this training prior to the date.

What's the deal with Virtus? All volunteers 18 years or older, working with children or vulnerable adults must complete the E3 (Essential 3) which includes Virtus Training. This includes attending a 3-hr live class, background check, code of conduct with video and Mandated reporter online training. There is also a volunteer form that you fill out and hand back in. After the initial training, you will be asked to update your E3 every three years.

How do I register to take the Virtus training?
1. Go to www.virtus.org, If you are new and want to join our team of volunteers, you need to contact our OPCY Coordinator prior to registering to take the Virtus training.

Loaves & Fishes ~

Tuesday, May 14th - We need YOU!!!

Please prayerfully consider making a one year commitment to the second shift (5-7pm) at Holy Rosary Church in SE Mpls. This is a two hour commitment a month every second Tuesday. More important is the last 45 minutes for the clean up, that starts at 6:15pm and ends by 7pm. February four people from St Joe's showed up and in March, two. We always have plenty of help during the holidays in November and December, but since last August, the first shift (prep), which starts at 1:30pm has stayed to help the second shift. That makes for a very long day. We need your help! St Joseph's Church has been providing a meal once a month at Holy Rosary Church for over 30 years. Let's continue that tradition. Loaves & Fishes is more than just a meal. It's about bringing God's love to his children, who are in need of a good hot meal and a smile. So grab your spouse, your friends and family and spend some quality time together.
Please contact Fay.connors@gmail.com. 952-250-7613
