Are you, or do you know someone who is experiencing . . .
Loneliness, death of a loved one, addiction, hospitalization, cancer, chronic illness, family of deployed military, resident in a nursing home, relationship issues, post-partum depression, stress of being a caregiver, struggling parent, victim of violence, abuse, imprisoned, relocated or any other pastoral care need?

BeFrienders are pastoral caregivers who:
Listen with compassion, accept people as they are, respect another's spiritual journey, and embody the caring presence of our loving God.
BeFrienders provide pastoral care for people in all kinds of difficult and transitional situations. They are trained volunteers who extend the care of a faith community.

Why should I ask a BeFriender to visit me?
Asking a BeFriender for a visit is essentially Jesus' commandment, "A new command I give you: Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another" (Jn 13:34).
As a Befriender, we will journey with you through listening and being present.

BeFrienders are here to reach out!
Often, people are too afraid to ask because they don't want to bother others. BeFrienders are here for you! At times in our life, everyone has a need for someone who listens, cares and prays with them.

Contact a BeFriender
Call St. Joseph's at (651)313-8493 and ask for Deacon Gordon. Gordon.Bird@stjosephcommunity.org.

Reach out!
We are your Church! We are here for you!
We want to listen! We want to journey with you! We care!

PADRE PAUL'S PONDERINGS

Humility Leads us to Grace

Odds are you have heard of the story by Hans Christian Anderson, "The Emperor's New Clothes." So caught up himself is the emperor, that all of his money goes to his new clothes. The story begins that he cared about nothing else; from reviewing the soldiers to going to the theater; al that mattered was his vast wardrobe. It takes over his life.

Eventually some shady characters take advantage of him, causing him to believe that he is the only one that can see the fine garment he is wearing. When of course he is naked, no one wants to tell him as he is in a parade, save for a wise child who cries out "he hasn't got anything on!' Eventually the whole town comes to see this truth, but the emperor still can't quite acknowledge the situation, thinking "the procession has to go on," so, the story ends, "he walked more proudly than ever, as his noblemen held high the train that wasn't there at all."

It's a great story that illustrates how pride can sometimes get in the way of our seeing reality; the reality of ourselves, and of situations we need to address.

Our first reading from Chronicles this week is the story of the destruction of the Temple and the Exile in Babylon, which took place around 600 BC and lasted 70 years. What had happened is the people had fallen into pride. They weren't faithful to God. The prophets come and they ignore them. With some humility, they could have opened their eyes and seen that yes, they were chosen, yes they were loved by God, but they had not responded to that love appropriately.

The problem is through pride can make us complacent. It can make us judge others and see ourselves as better than them. We can think "hey, I've done enough, I'm pretty good, all is well." Well, all is not well with us. The emperor put on his "best" clothes for the procession and we can put a lot of energy into the outside, but not the inside. Pride is one of those things you rarely hear confessed, but it's worth thinking about.

The past couple of weeks, I've looked at some questions we can ask ourselves as we try to grow in grace during this Lenten season. So here's a few to think about with respect to pride:

Do I refuse or resist admitting my weaknesses? Do I dwell on the failings of others? Do I judge/condemn others, in my thoughts or words? Do I rank myself better than others or demand certain treatment because of my "status"? Do I harbor hatred for another? Do I refuse to learn from others or reject their opinions, especially when they disagree with me? Am I stubborn? Do I refuse to admit I am wrong or to accept that another person has a better idea? Am I arrogant? Do I hold others in contempt? Do I assume I am right and others are wrong without ensuring I actually understand them or their ideas?

With vanity, Am I overly concerned about what others think of me? Have I allowed this to influence my actions? Do I lie or exaggerate to make myself look good? Have I wasted undue time and money on clothes and appearance? Am I discontent with my lowly position, or have I resented the role that Christ asks of me? Do I experience frequent anxiety regarding how I am perceived? Do I allow this to influence my actions? Am I cowardly in when confronted with doing or saying something that should be said or done because of my concern for the perception of others? Do I cling to my own perception of myself instead of allowing others to help me understand how I really am?

When I preach at weddings, I often mention to couples that just as "I love you" are important words to say and live out though actions, two very important words as well are "I'm sorry." A wise couple knows that they make mistakes; they let one another down. Virtually every episode of one of my favorite classic TV series, "The Honeymooners," was Ralph Kramden played by Jackie Gleason getting into some foolish scheme or getting angry about something and then having to apologize at the end to his loving wife Alice. Pride can so often blind us. But the reality is we make mistakes in our marriages; in our friendships; in trying to live out our vocation if you are a parent or in my case, a priest. I have to be aware that I am a sinner, and a work in progress. On the one hand I need fortitude to make tough decisions, to say challenging things, and to do the right thing. But on the other, sometimes I will fail. When we do, we have recognize we are human and not perfect.

Lastly, two added important words: "help me." Sometimes we want to do things all on our own. But we live in a community. We are meant to reach out to one another. Also at weddings I remind the couple that the people gathered are not just there for a meal, but there to celebrate with you on your wedding day, but also in the future are there to help you live out your vocation. I turn to other priests for advice; I turn to the great staff we have at our parish to help me in my ministry at Saint Joe's; and I turn to parishioners to take ownership of their parish as we move forward as a parish family. Odds are your teachers and parents helped you learn how to read and write and ride a bike. Just because we grow in age does not mean we still do not need help along the way. So ask for help, and swallow your pride whether you're battling a serious sin or an addiction, or just need some advice and counsel or need some help getting a project done. As Christians, we build one another up.

When Adam and Eve eat of the forbidden fruit, they are aware of their nakedness. Like them, sin can make us aware of the sorry state of our lives at times. God though does not abandon them; instead He responds with Jesus, and just as on the Easter Vigil and at every baptism the newly baptized are clothed in a white garment, signifying God's love and grace, we too are clothed with God's love every time we approach Him. So let's not fear doing so, knowing that asking for forgiveness and help is not a sign of weakness, but of strength.

God Bless, ~ Fr. Paul

PARISH LIFE EVENTS

The Church of St. Joseph will be celebrating Divine Mercy Sunday on April 11th from 2-4pm; with a special prayer service which includes Eucharistic Adoration.

What is Divine Mercy Sunday?

From 1930-1938, Jesus appeared to Sister Maria Faustina Kowalska, an educated nun, in a convent of the Congregation of Sister of Our Lady of Mercy in Poland. Jesus asked Sister Faustina to record her experience and extraordinary revelations of His love and unfathomable Divine Mercy for mankind. The notebook she kept became known as The Diary of St. Maria Faustina Kowalska, and Sister Faustina's mission was born: to proclaim His mercy.

Jesus gave us two beautiful devotions: The Chaplet of Divine Mercy and The Novena of the Divine Mercy. "Oh, what great graces I will grant to souls who say this chaplet; the very depths of My tender Mercy are stirred for the sake of those who say the chaplet." (Diary, 848) Jesus said to Sister Faustina, "At three o'clock, implore My mercy, especially for sinners; and, if only for a brief moment, immerse yourself in My passion, particularly in My abandonment at the moment of agony. This is the hour of great mercy for the whole world." … "In this hour I will refuse nothing to the soul that makes a request of Me in virtue of My Passion." (Diary, 1320)

In 2000, Pope John Paul II canonized St. Faustina and declared the first Sunday after Easter Divine Mercy Sunday. Through Divine Mercy, we may "reestablish our relationship with God" and create "new relations of fraternal solidarity among human beings." (Homily, April 30, 2000). In order to ensure observation of Divine Mercy Sunday, Pope John Paul II conferred a plenary indulgence for those who fulfilled the requirements and participation of Divine Mercy Sunday. Pope Benedict XVI told us: "It is a really central message for our time. Mercy as the force of God, as the divine limit against evil in the world".
